Reeling Film Fest

Lakeview

The 29th annual gay and lesbian fest, billed as the second-oldest LGBT film fest in the word, spans 54 films from 24 countries in 10 days. This weekend, choose from a whopping 21 of those flicks, screening at Landmark Century Centre Cinema (2828 N. Clark St.), with themes ranging from marriage equality to newfound fatherhood and coming-of-age love to late-in-life romance. It's hard not to be excited for the Clive Barker-produced "JoJo Baby" (top right, 5 p.m. Saturday), featuring the namesake artist sans costumes and makeup (though there's some of that too). Another don't-miss is "Violet Tendencies" (bottom right, 9:15 p.m. Sunday), starring Mindy Cohn ("The Facts of Life") as Violet, a 40-year-old struggling to seek a straight mate while staying friends with all her gay guy pals. Fest ends Nov. 13.

When: Various times; see reelingfilmfestival.org for full schedule

AUDITION

'America's Got Talent'

Near South Side

Got talent? Prove it to producers during the NBC show's stop at McCormick Place (2301 S. Lake Shore Drive) and get a chance to glimpse Mariah Carey's hubby and daddy-to-be (oh, and "AGT" host) Nick Cannon to boot.

Go online to americasgottalentauditions.com/new/chicago to download pre-registration forms. Don't forget a photo ID and, that's right, your talent. P.S. Smile! You might be on TV. When: Saturday and Sunday; pre-registration dictates which day you should show up

CHEER

Your favorite derby-istas

University Village

The big enchilada of roller derby competitions, otherwise known as the 2010 Women's Flat Track Derby Association's Championship Tournament, lands in Chicago this year at Uproar on the Lakeshore (UIC Pavilion, 525 S. Racine Ave. 312-413-5740). Watch as the Top 12 U.S. roller derby teams compete for the Hydra trophy. Chicago's own Windy City Rollers get their shot at 2:45 p.m. Saturday during Bout 8. Cheer on the home team or pick your fave among Gotham Girls Roller Derby, Rocky Mountain Rollergirls, Kansas City Roller Warriors and lots more. Party with the teams at after parties 11 p.m. Saturday at Reggie's Music Joint (2105 S. State St.) and 9 p.m. Sunday at Vic Theatre (3145 N. Sheffield Ave.). $30 per tournament day.

When: Bouts run 9:30 a.m.-7:15 p.m. Saturday; consolation and championship bouts are 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday

Azure Ray

Lakeview

The re-banded dream-pop duo promotes their new album, "Drawing Down the Moon," with a welcomed performance at Schubas (3159 N. Southport Ave. 773-525-2508) this weekend. Maria Taylor and Orenda Fink are good on their own, but they're great together. With Tim Fite and James Husband. $15.

When: 10 p.m. Saturday

MEET

'85 Bears

River North

Offset your current football frustrations with a blast from successful years past. Former 1985 Bears players Steve McMichael, Dennis McKinnon, Shaun Gayle, Otis Wilson and others host the Glory Days Official Fan Party at Bull & Bear (431 N. Wells St. 312-527-5973) in honor of the 25th anniversary of that fateful Super Bowl win. All players will be available to sign memorabilia and chat about the pigskin. Maybe you can form a winning strategy for this year's team. Hey, it's worth a shot. No cover. RSVP required: info@bullbearbar.com

When: 7 p.m. Sunday

DANCE

Palace Nightclub grand opening

West Loop

Tucked inside Alhambra Palace Restaurant (1240 W. Randolph St.) is this new Moroccan-themed nightclub featuring what we keep hearing is the city's largest dance floor. Officially break in the new place (you may have taken a test drive during Palace's Halloween party) in the company of DJs, dancers and acrobats. The three-day grand opening culminates Saturday. $20 cover. In other nightclub news, owners of Sound Bar and Crescendo open Hearts (1115 N. Branch St.) this weekend in the Goose Island neighborhood. $20.

When: 9 p.m.-3 a.m. Saturday

A PICTURE IS WORTH A GIFT CARD

When we asked RedEye and Metromix readers to send in photos of themselves dressed up in Halloween costumes, we never expected the kind of response we received. There were two prizes in our contest—one for best costume from 2010 and another for best costume from previous years.

So who won? A tornado and two Yip-Yip monsters. Check out all the amazing entries at bit.ly/2010costume and bit.ly/pastcostumes.

If you want a chance to be featured here someday, make sure you follow what we do on social media. ## Tornado

We were instantly impressed when we saw Rachel Barney's tornado costume. The cloud hat, the items sucked up into the storm. ... The attention to detail, errr, blew us away. (See what we did there?)

Yip-Yip

If you've ever seen these monsters on Sesame Street, you'll back us up when we say that we were amazed at how accurate Heather Haseley & Brett Edenton's costumes were. Yip Yip Yip Yip, uh-huh, uh-huh.

AMERICA VOTED ★★★

President Obama and the Democrats weren't the only losers in Tuesday's midterm election. And the Tea Party backers weren't the only winners. They just got the most headlines. Now that the votes are counted, here are some other winners and losers around the country.

LOSER

McDonald's

This decision wasn't part of the general election, but it did happen the same day. San Francisco became the first major U.S. city to limit the practice of giving away free toys with children's meals Tuesday when the city's Board of Supervisors voted to require that kids' meals meet certain nutritional standards before they can be sold with toys. Ronald is NOT gonna like this.

WINNER 7-Eleven

The convenience store chain was all over the political news Wednesday when a reporter asked President Obama if he would meet with John Boehner (R-Ohio), the likely new House speaker, over some Slurpees—a reference to one of Obama's famous digs at the GOP. "I might serve a Slurpee," Obama responded. "They're delicious drinks." Responded Boehner's spokesman: "The new Wicked Apple flavor sounds awesome." See, they're getting along already.

WINNER MTV

"Jersey Shore" took a back seat in MTV land—at least for a day—as former "Real World" star Sean Duffy was elected to the U.S. House. The Republican appeared on the show's sixth season, when it was in Boston. Are you thinking what we're thinking? "Real World-Jersey Shore Challenge"! Duffy might know the issues, but does he know how to get three grenades out of a hot tub in less than a minute?

COLD-WEATHER BOOK TIPS FROM 9 LOCAL READERS

By Geoff George

FOR REDEYE

So, you're sick of "Real Housewives" spin-offs, and you already watched your friend's collection of "Mad Men" DVDs—twice. As Chicago temps plummet, it's high time to abandon the TV and, ahem, book it to your neighborhood purveyor of winter reads. Trust us, you'll be in good company.

"We're busy all winter long, even if the weather's wet," said Suzy Takacs, owner of The Book Cellar in Lincoln Square. "There's been blizzards outside, and it's still packed here."

During the cold months, Takacs recommends diving into a weightier tome you haven't had time to tackle. "[In the summer] you're at the beach, and you're interrupted and distracted—you're talking to friends," she said. "In the winter, you can hunker down for something truly literary that's longer than what you'd read in the summer."

Not a reader? Even if you vowed never to page through "Eat Pray Love," there's a good chance you saw the film adaptation. You also may have "read" a comic book ("Scott Pilgrim vs. The World"), a young-adult novel ("It's Kind of a Funny Story") or an adult think piece ("The Town").

With final installments of "Harry Potter" and the Swedish version of Stieg Larsson's Millennium Trilogy coming out, the book-film practice isn't likely to go away soon.

We talked with nine Chicagoans from a host of different backgrounds about what they're reading now and what books they think would make good films. Check out their answers to get a few cold-weather suggestions of your own.

JEANINE O'TOOLE, 31

Lead singer for Chicago-based band The 1900s

What are you reading now?

Crescent Dragonwagon's "Passionate Vegetarian" would be a great read even without actual recipes. "A Quaker Book of Wisdom" by Robert Lawrence Smith is a regular on my nightstand. It's a basic outline of the religious society's history and lifestyle.

What book would make the perfect movie?

Chuck Klosterman's short story "Crazy Things Seem Normal, Normal Things Seem Crazy." It's about an unbelievable interview with Val Kilmer, who might be bonkers. Oh, and Dolly Parton's autobiography, "My Life and Other Unfinished Business." She would also need to star in this film. There's only one Dolly.

MIKE RICH/REDEYE

PATRICK KANE, 21

Big-time scorer and right winger for the Blackhawks

What are you reading now?

"Coming Back Stronger" by Drew Brees. It's all about getting better—even when you're at the top of the league, you always want to improve."

What book would make the perfect movie?

I haven't read it yet, but I heard Keith Richards just released an autobiography, "Life". He was a major part of one of the biggest bands of the 20th century, and I can only imagine what kinds of stories he has to tell.

RedEye's fall/winter reading list

Books we're eyeing for the frigid months ahead

TRENT KOLAND

"Fables" (series of more than 14 graphic novels)
By Bill Willingham
Fairy tales living in NYC, wha?!

VICTORIA RODRIGUEZ

"The Housekeeper and the Professor"
By Yoko Ogawa
Math and love equals strange charm.

GEORGIA GARVEY

"Spies of the Balkans"
By Alan Furst
Espionage! Greece! World War III! Sold!

ERNEST WILKINS

"Less than Zero"
By Bret Easton Ellis
Good movie; now it's book time.

CHE "RHYMEFEST" SMITH, 33

Chicago-based hip-hop artist and current alderman candidate in the 20th Ward.

What are you reading now?

Saul Alinsky's "Rules for Radicals" and "Kick Ass 2: Balls to the Wall" by Mark Millar. I'm a huge comic head.

What book would make the perfect movie?

"The Heart of a Woman" by Maya Angelou because it has a lot of historic figures like Dr. King and Billie Holiday, and it's the classic story of a single mother making it against the odds with her son as the only man that she truly trusts and loves.

NANCY STONE/CHICAGO TRIBUNE

DALE LEVITSKI, 37

Executive Chef at Sprout and soon-to-be contestant on "Top Chef All-Stars"

What are you reading now?

Lately, I've been working on "The Girl With the Dragon Tattoo" [by Stieg Larsson]. I'm half Swedish, so it's very reminiscent of my family."

What book would make the perfect movie?

"When I was kid, I was a huge comic book nerd. Any X-Men offshoot, I'll be all over. If they make another Superman movie, I'm going to kill someone."

CHRIS WALKER/TRIBUNE

JEFF SCIORINO FOR CHICAGO TRIBUNE MAG.

ADRIAN HOLOVATY, 29

Founder of and developer for EveryBlock.com

What are you reading now?

I'm reading "The Unfolding of Language" by Guy Deutscher, which is all about how language evolves over centuries. It's an absolutely fascinating topic, and the book is really well written.

What book would make the perfect movie?

I'd love to see a movie about Django Reinhardt, the jazz guitarist. A good biography is "Django: the Life and Music of a Gypsy legend" by Michael Dregni. He was a very quirky guy and overcame some crazy odds.

CHUCK BERMAN/TRIBUNE

REBECCA ZEMANS, 29

Ravenswood-based jewelry designer featured in Fashion Focus Chicago 2010

What are you reading now?

"Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil" [by John Berendt]. For somebody who is a very visual person, it's hard for my attention to keep focused, but it's a great page-turner.

What book would make the perfect movie?

I think "Devil in the White City" [by Erik Larson] would be an awesome movie. It would probably be too scary for me, but would be a great period piece showing a historical time in Chicago.

PHIL VELASQUEZ/TRIBUNE

ADAM LEVIN, 33

Author of the "The Instructions," recently published by McSweeney's

What are you reading now?

I'm rereading the brilliant and hilarious "Awful Possibilities" by Christian TeBordo. It's one of my favorite story collections of the last 10 years.

What book would make the perfect movie?

"The Avian Gospels" by Adam Novy would make a great movie. The protagonist is able to control birds to the degree that he can, for example, get thousands of them to form giant, flapping sculptures in the sky.

ALEX GARCIA/TRIBUNE

KATE MCGROARTY, 24

Winner of the Museum of Science and Industry's "Month at the Museum" contest

What books did you bring to the museum?

"A House for Mr. Biswas" by V.S. Naipaul, "The Great Gatsby" by F. Scott Fitzgerald, "Shakespeare's Sonnets," and some of my favorite plays, including "The K of D: an Urban Legend" by Laura Schellhardt.

What book would make the perfect movie?

"The Devil in the White City." I have loved that book since I devoured it a couple of years ago. History, architecture, serial killers—what's not to love?

ANDREW A. NELLES/FOR REDEYE

JAY RYAN, 38

Artist, musician and owner of The Bird Machine print shop

What are you reading now?

"The Book of Dads," edited by Ben George. My wife and I are expecting our first child, a daughter, in January, and this book addresses some fathers' experiences and philosophies.

What book would make the perfect movie?

Neal Stephenson's "Cryptonomicon" could make a great movie. It's in the science fiction section of the bookstore, but it's more like historical math fiction, telling two parallel stories about British and American code breakers during World War II.

Animated Fey, a 'better actor'

Detroit Free Press

Tina Fey sounds impressed by the talent of her cartoon alter ego in the upcoming 3-D movie "Megamind."

"The animation adds so much and adds this visual element to your performance that I was joking with my husband after I saw the cut. I was like, 'Oh, my animated self is a much better actor than I am. Her face is so much more expressive,'" the star of "30 Rock" said

As the voice of TV reporter Roxanne Ritchi, Fey brings her smart comic style to the all-star cast of "Megamind," which opens Friday.

In the funny animated adventure, Will Ferrell provides the voice of the title character, a brilliant supervillain who is surprisingly endearing. Brad Pitt is his nemesis, Metro Man, the brave superhero who protects Metro City.

Megamind's efforts to defeat Metro Man consistently fail, so much so that even he is surprised when one of his attempts actually works. Feeling lost without a foe to oppose, Megamind tries to create a new hero, Tighten (Jonah Hill), who quickly becomes destructive. Can Megamind change his supervillainous ways and save the city?

As Metro Man's girlfriend, Fey's no-nonsense character is frequently kidnapped by Megamind—and not at all intimidated by him.

For the actress, it was a chance to work on a project starring her former "Saturday Night Live" colleague Ferrell. "He's not the kind of person who wants to be doing all the talking all the time, or be stealing the scene. He started in improv and stuff at the Groundlings, and you can tell he's just like a great, great team player kind of guy."

She thought the role was pretty cool, too.

"I really liked the part, taking that kind of archetypal Lois Lane part and updating it for the 21st century," Fey said, speaking by phone from L.A.

Fey is one of the most successful stars of comedy on TV and in the movies, but she said she definitely sees herself as a writer first. She was a cast member and the first female head writer for "SNL." Her sitcom, "30 Rock," where she's a writer and executive producer, is an Emmy favorite.

She's starred in films such as 2004's "Mean Girls," which she also wrote, 2008's "Baby Mama" and 2010's "Date Night." In the pop-culture arena, she's had an impact on entertainment and politics with her Sarah Palin impression.

On Tuesday, she will receive the Mark Twain Prize for American Humor in Washington, D.C. Previous winners include Bill Cosby, George Carlin, Steve Martin, Carl Reiner, Bob Newhart and Richard Pryor. Fey is the third woman to get the prize; it went to Whoopi Goldberg in 2001 and Lily Tomlin in 2003.

"It's a huge honor and I can't believe the company that [I'm] being included in," she said. "It's something I never even dreamed of in my life. It's the kind of thing that I'm just really excited for my parents to be there."

TINA FEY

If you could have a superpower, what would it be?

If I had a power to make cell phones and cameras not work, that would be good for when you're sitting next to the people at the airport who are being loud.

What the voices of 'Megamind' have on their minds

Some of the stars give their takes on good guys versus bad guys and the most coveted superpowers. L.A. TIMES

WILL FERRELL

Are there times that you wish you had a wristwatch like Megamind, which allows him to change his physical persona or become invisible?

Oh, yeah, that'd be a nifty little power. When you're sometimes at an airport and someone has cornered you, and you realize a crowd is about to gather. Those are the moments where I'd go.

JONAH HILL

Metro Man is Megamind's antagonist, but he's also the one who gives Megamind his drive—do you have someone like that in your life?

Daniel Day-Lewis. We are constantly competing for roles, being catty toward one another, and yet, at the same time, being each other's greatest inspiration.

DAVID CROSS

Were you ever teased as a kid, like Megamind was?

I grew up in the '70s and '80s in suburban Georgia, and I was a Jew from New York, so I was constantly teased. I was different. I was weird. My hair was different, and I was also very poor with big, thick, nerdy glasses. I was an awkward-looking kid. A bit precocious. I read books. I didn't believe in Jesus.

Plame 'Game'

Back when the country was being run by a guy who pronounced those most dangerous weapons “nuke-ular,” Valerie Plame Wilson (Naomi Watts) was revealed as a CIA agent by a leak in Washington. “Fair Game” looks at how Plame’s exposure may have been connected to her husband, ambassador Joe Wilson (Sean Penn), and his attempt to expose President Bush’s claims about Iraq’s nuclear weapons capability as misinformation.

The buzz: Director Doug Liman (“The Bourne Identity,” “Mr. and Mrs. Smith”) could use a win with his first effort since 2008’s awful “Jumper.” Hopefully the movie, based on Plame’s book of the same name and Wilson’s book, “The Politics of Truth,” sticks to the facts without adding unnecessary juice.

The verdict: There’s a discomfoting sense that “Fair Game” labors to create a mobilizing thriller for people who don’t know their yellow-cake uranium from their buttermilk pancakes. That means a one-sided look at high-ranking officials’ shady agenda and multiple scenes of CIA people shaking their heads in disbelief at what’s being said on TV—plus a preachy ending that’s really gotta go. The movie has a sort of low-key crackle, though. The irresistible intrigue, underlined by post-9/11 fear and the challenge of separating truth from truthiness, is what it takes to keep your cool and your principles when steamrolled by a powerful political machine. Which is not easy on a marriage.

2010 STANLEY CUP CHAMPIONS

At the tip of the Baja Peninsula, land ends and the Sea of Cortés meets the Pacific Ocean. Breathtaking beaches line the resort area of Los Cabos. Two towns, lively Cabo San Lucas and laid-back San Jose del Cabo, are bridged by a 20-mile corridor lined with world-class, oceanfront resorts.

In this marlin capital of the world, deep sea fishing combines with championship golf and exciting nightlife to make "Cabo" the perfect vacation spot!

THE PLACE YOU THOUGHT YOU KNEW

'Nothing' scores with good vibe

By Steve Knopper

NEWSDAY

Before putting out its excellent fourth album, "Nothing," dance-beat trio N.E.R.D. had an argument with executives from its record label, Interscope.

"You know, they're like: 'The club, the club,'" leader Pharrell Williams recently told The Canadian Press. "We're more like: 'The vibe, the vibe.'"

Both ideas turned out to be correct.

In a contrast from the band's early hits, "Nothing" is all relaxed, well-crafted pop tunes grafted onto slinky dancehall beats, and the effect is a sort of fade from '60s soul to '70s funk to disco, stopping just short of hip-hop. Sometimes, this mixture is generic, as on "The Man," a lightweight piece of bongo-driven, feel-good funk with a whistling sample from "The Good, the Bad and the Ugly;" more often, it's ridiculously potent, as on "Sacred Temple," a disco homage to monogamy that builds from a sparse, tense bass line to a beautifully chaotic R&B chorus.

The core of N.E.R.D. is Williams and Chad Hugo, better known as The Neptunes, who for a decade built hits for Jay-Z, Britney Spears, Justin Timberlake and others. But Shay Haley, the band's inexplicably unknown lead singer, frequently rises above the electric pianos, bleating horns and synths and whooping background vocals, channeling Curtis Mayfield's falsetto on the whispery, Daft Punk-produced "Hypnotize U" and mimicking John Legend perfectly on the cooing, march-time "God Bless Us All."

T.I. ("Party People") and Nelly Furtado ("Hot-n-Fun") show up for the requisite star cameos, but it's to N.E.R.D.'s credit that they come and go as additional sounds in the mix.

TV ON DVD 'The Pacific'

This powerful production presents war in its bloodiest elements.

The lines between good and evil get washed away in a sea of mud, sweat and tears as shown through the lives of Marines in the Pacific Theater. "The Pacific" takes a little long to establish its central characters, but once they take shape, it becomes a production that'll haunt you with its realism, move you with its emotional power and test your ideas about what you think are the limits of the human spirit. RICK BENTLEY, THE FRESNO BEE

DVD 'Toy Story 3'

Available now
Woody, Buzz and the other toys try to adjust to what life will be like after Andy leaves for college. The film continues the high standards—from cutting-edge computer work to smart writing—that have made Pixar Studios the Disney of the 21st Century when it comes to animation. The first two films focused on topics such as friendship, jealousy and cooperation. "Toy Story 3" focuses more on separation, the loss of youthful innocence and the desperate need to belong. RICK BENTLEY, THE FRESNO BEE

TV Fox's Animation Demon-ation Halloween

7 p.m.: "The Simpsons: Treehouse of Horror XXI"
7:30 p.m.: "The Cleveland Show: It's the Great Pancake, Cleveland Brown"
8 p.m.: "Family Guy: Halloween on Spooner Street"
8:30 p.m.: "American Dad: Best Little Horror House in Langley Falls" (above)

Just when you thought it was safe to pack up that costume, Fox unleashes the holiday episodes of its Animation Domination night. (The World Series aired last weekend.) The best of the bunch, surprisingly, is "American Dad," in which Stan's attempt to retain the title of scariest haunted house backfires when he "hires" several imprisoned serial killers. The other series have high and low points, but mostly low this year. The most clever part of the disappointing "The Simpsons" is the casting of "Harry Potter's" Daniel Radcliffe as Robert Pattinson's pasty vamp in a spoof of "Twilight." Otherwise, the night is neither frightening nor all that funny. CURT WAGNER, REDEYE

SONG 'The Time (Dirty Bit)'

The Black Eyed Peas
Could "The Time (Dirty Bit)" be the break in The Black Eyed Peas' winning streak? Maybe. The first single from the forthcoming album "The Beginning" feels uncharacteristically lazy. Part sleepy remake of the Bill Medley/Jennifer Warnes' hit "(I've Had) The Time of My Life," part tired Euro-influenced dance party, "The Time" lacks the game-changing markings that made "Boom Boom Pow" or even "Don't Phunk With My Heart" so influential. Look for a second single to arrive before "The Beginning" gets released. GLENN GAMBOA, NEWSDAY

Nice catch

By Dana Kavan

Browntrout's been blasted for having an unappetizing name, but the food at this North Center spot with a focus on sustainable products speaks for itself. Brunch is no exception. A well-edited menu of around 10 items includes a weekly omelet special ($10, on our visit, a version included sausage, wild mushroom and herbs, some of which were picked from the restaurant's rooftop garden) and just enough variety to hold our interest.

Server says: Opt for the Canadian lake trout "Cosby" sandwich ($12), crispy fish topped with a mayo-based sauce that's a step up from your standard tartar and served with a heap of pommes frites.

We say: If it's too early for lunch, the hearty Eggs Bacon-dict ($12) provides a savory fix. Chef Sean Sanders tops a mini-ciabatta roll with house-made garlic sausage, perfectly poached eggs and subtle hollandaise. The bacon that crowns the dish tasted slightly overcooked, but we fought over the last bite of rosti—a patty of shredded potato, shallots and garlic, pan-seared to a golden brown and roasted—that came on the side.

We can't stop thinking about ... The made-in-house apple butter, a tart surprise stuffed inside three irresistibly fluffy pancakes. Granny Smith apple slivers add a nice crunch to the sweet stack, which comes served with syrup and rhubarb jam.

Day drinking: Browntrout sticks to the a.m. cocktail standbys: a bloody mary and mimosa. The bloody mary mix starts with pulpy juice made from Ellis Farm tomatoes—purchased at the farmers market on the same block—which the restaurant canned at the end of the summer. Horseradish, ginger, Worcestershire and jalapenos are added in to build on the fresh flavor.

The vibe: Diners who hate feeling rushed or shouting over their eggs will appreciate Browntrout's serene setting. A smart mix of indie rock, bluegrass and jazz tunes play in the sunshine-drenched dining room.

Eggs Bacon-dict

Crowd surfing: The few tables occupied on the Sunday we went skewed toward the typical North Center mix of younger families and groups of friends.

Buzz factor: Though the price is a bit steep at $3.50, Browntrout's coffee comes from Star Lounge Coffee Bar in Ukrainian Village, and the custom roast goes down smooth.

Bottom line: If you're an eggs-your-way kind of brunch-goer, you might feel limited by Browntrout's offerings. But it will appeal to those who appreciate seasonal, well-executed plates made with as many locally sourced ingredients as possible.

'Melo drama

Trade winds still swirling around Nuggets' star forward

By Ryan Smith

FOR REDEYE

After a summer filled with rumors that Carmelo Anthony was gearing up to be traded, 'Melo still remains in a powder blue Denver uniform. But the talk that the Nuggets' star forward is headed to the Bulls, New York or New Jersey just won't, well, mellow out. So with Anthony and his Denver mates coming to the United Center on Monday, here's the lowdown on the latest trade buzz.

Anthony wants out

The Nuggets offered 'Melo a three-year, $64 million contract extension, but Anthony spurned it because he feels it is "a time for change."

"If I do nothing now, I'm never going to do anything. I feel like my time is now to make a decision if I want to leave or if I want to stay," Anthony told Yahoo! Sports last week.

Bulls back in the picture

The Bulls initially shot down a potential trade for Anthony in September because they refused to include Joakim Noah in the deal, but talks reportedly are back on. One problem: how to convince the Nuggets or another trade partner to take Luol Deng and his massive contract.

Thibodeau says no

Bulls coach Tom Thibodeau doesn't expect a trade and doesn't seem excited about the

"If I do nothing now, I'm never going to do anything. I feel like my time is now to make a decision if I want to leave or if I want to stay."

—Carmelo Anthony

prospect.

"You hear about a million trade talks and very few of them ever happen. I'm really happy with the guys that we have," Thibodeau told ESPN 1000 last week. "I think we have a very talented team, and we have good chemistry and I think we're gonna get better as the season goes along."

Spike Lee says yes

Anthony will be wearing a Knicks uniform soon—if you're to believe filmmaker and Knicks superfan Spike Lee. "I have just one sentence for you: Carmelo Anthony will be with the Knicks if God is willing and the creek don't rise," Lee told The New York Post before the Knicks' home opener Oct. 30.

Enter a number between 1 and 9 in the empty squares. The clues are the numbers in the white circles that give the sum of the solution numbers: above the line are across clues; below the line are down clues. Thus, a clue of 3 will produce a solution of 2 and 1, and a 5 will produce 4 and 1, or 2 and 3, but, of course, which squares they go in will depend on the solution of a clue in the other direction. No digit can be repeated in a solution. Answer at redyechicago.com/puzzles. EDITED BY MICHAEL MEPHAM

WITH CONNECTIONS LIKE THESE, JT AND DRAKE WERE BOUND TO COLLABORATE

We'll listen to just about anything Justin Timberlake puts out there, whether it's a dance floor anthem like "SexyBack" or a rap medley with Jimmy Fallon. Heck, we'd listen to a track of him snoring.

The same goes for Drake, the hip-hop demigod who's just as good a singer as he is a dresser. Both stars are ridiculously handsome, talented and willing to collaborate musically with their peers. Which, until now, did not include each other.

Repeat: Until now. "Me and Justin Timberlake will probably have a song soon," Drake told Fuse this week. "I'm really excited about that, 'cause I've wanted to work with Justin for a long time. And we've recently talked about it, and I think we're going to make it happen." The two have orbited in the same high-profile circles for a long time, so this seems inevitable—and awesome.

Check out all the mutual friends JT and Drizzy might have on Facebook. ARIEL ALEXOVICH, REDEYE

RIHANNA

The beauty from Barbados has collaborated with both JT and Drake musically—and some gossip sites say romantically.

EMINEM

Drake worked with Em on "Forever," and in the song "Marshall Mathers," Eminem rapped that he had "instincts to kill 'NSync." Hey, we didn't say they were all positive connections.

TIMBALAND

It's a feat to get feat. on a Timbaland track, but both dudes have done it, Drake on "Say Something" and JT on "Carry Out."

MARY J. BLIGE

Justin and Mary walked the red carpet together at the 2007 Golden Globes (yeah, really), and Drake borrowed Mary for his song "Fancy."

THE ROOTS

JT jammed with the Roots on "Jimmy Fallon," and Drake ... well, we're not sure Drake knows The Roots personally, but the Toronto-born singer wears the annoying Canadian clothing brand Roots in his video for "Miss Me."

So not worth it

Will Ferrell does not live up to the hype, according to Forbes. The comedian, whose "Land of the Lost" bombed at the global box office earlier this year, topped the mag's "Most Overpaid Actors" list for the second year in a row. For every $1 Ferrell was paid, his films returned an average $3.35, according to Forbes' calculations. Other actors called out for not being worth the money this year included: Vince Vaughn, Denzel Washington, Seth Rogen, Tom Cruise, Drew Barrymore, Matt Damon and Jim Carrey.

A word from The Plastics

The "Real Housewives of Beverly Hills" cast recently dished about their plastic surgery procedures on a radio show appearance, according to usmag.com. Here's a sampling of what they 'fessed up to.

- » "Botox, fillers, boobs, nose ... No lips ... No cheek bones."
—Adrienne Maloof
- » "I plead the fifth ... Okay, I have a bucket of Botox in my face!"
—Lisa Vanderpump
- » "I did a little Botox at one point with my sister, and I did have implants that I had taken out. They made them too big, and I couldn't see my feet. Not that I loved my toes, but I would like to glance at them now and then."
—Kim Richards
- » "I did have my nose done. I have done Botox. My husband doesn't know, but he does now ... But these are my own boobs!"

THE DIGIT

$10 million

Amount of money Heidi and Spencer Pratt estimate they blew during their time together, in an interview with Life&Style magazine. The couple are considering filing for bankruptcy.

The new Mrs. Lachey

Move over, Jessica Simpson. After about four years of dating, Vanessa Minnillo and Nick Lachey are tying the knot, people.com reports. Lachey reportedly popped the question at a California beach on Thursday, according to People. "We're excited and incredibly happy about our engagement and we look forward to a wonderful future together," the couple said in a joint statement.

In other wedding news ...

Jane Lynch's "Glee" character Sue Sylvester is also getting married, Lynch told usmagazine at a recent awards show. "But I can't say who. But you may know who it is," Lynch is quoted as saying. Also on the "Glee" lineup is a Nov. 16 guest appearance by Gwyneth Paltrow, who is set to sing three or four solos, including Cee Lo Green's "F**k You." "I did a couple of scenes with her, and she is awesome," Lynch said of Paltrow.
